

The Superfood for an Active & Healthy Pet

To discover why Sun Pet Treats are an excellent choice for your pet's health, let's take a closer look at their powerful nutrients. Chlorella, a single-celled freshwater green algae, is renowned for its remarkable health benefits and is one of Japan's top-selling nutritional supplements. Beyond the many natural advantages of chlorella, Sun Pet Treats offer a range of key nutrients including:

Chlorophyll: With the highest chlorophyll content of any plant, chlorella can help support the natural detoxification of your pets, while assisting healthier digestion.

Chlorella Growth Factor (CGF): This dynamic nucleotide-peptide complex, unique to chlorella, supports your pet's natural immune system.

Vitamin D: A natural source of vitamin D so they may benefit from its immunity support.

Iron: A good source of iron, which is essential for producing red blood cells and maintaining overall health.

Lecithin: Provides nutritional support so that your pet can maintain a beautiful, glossy coat.

Protection from Environmental Hazards

One of the greatest gifts for beloved pets is protecting their health. Simply through breathing and drinking water, pets can be exposed to pollutants. Adding Sun Pet Treats, which contain highly digestible chlorella, to their daily diet helps support the body's natural detoxification process.

A Natural Approach to Energy

Each serving of Sun Pet Treats provides Eleutherosides B & E, the active compounds that make eleuthero one of nature's most powerful adaptogens. These compounds work with a pet's body to help them adapt to stress, offering a natural energy boost while supporting the body's defense system.
